Shameek Chakravarty is Founder & CEO at Farmizen (www.farmizen.com) - a farm to fork marketplace which takes a social commerce approach to providing market access to responsible farmers practising regenerative agriculture. Shameek believes that a better food system can be built by connecting conscious communities to small-holding farmers who shepherd their soil. Shameek has been building innovative products and businesses over two decades across startups and large enterprises including Amazon, Yahoo and Juniper Networks, and holds an undergraduate degree in Computer Science from BITS Pilani and a MBA from Indian School of Business, Hyderabad.